Riverton, Wyo - On Wednesday, October 10, 2012, the Wyoming Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) and the Wyoming Oil and Gas Conservation Commission (OGCC), will be hosting a Pavillion working group meeting in Riverton.

This meeting will provide updates and discussion regarding the United States Geological Survey (USGS) well testing report, investigation of mud and production pits, well bore integrity and an update on the cistern project.

The meeting will begin at 9:00 AM at the Central Wyoming College Campus in the Wind River room - ITECC (Intertribal Education & Community Center) #116. The public is encouraged to attend and will be given an opportunity to comment.
